EDUCATION COMMISSION INVITES SUBMISSIONS

An appeal has been issued by the Commission on Educational Planning for ideas, opinions, and views about the future of education in Alberta during the last third of the twentieth century.

The Commission has invited individuals and groups interested in the province's educational future to make submissions to the Commission by March 17, 1970.

Shortly after the March 17 deadline, the Commission will hold a series of public hearings at various locations throughout the province to obtain additional information.

The Commission, established by Order-in-Council last June and headed by WALTER H. WORTH, former Vice-President in charge of Campus Planning and Development, will differ from the traditional "royal commission" in its scope and approach.

It will study all forms and levels of education, including pre-school, elementary, secondary, post-secondary and lifelong education, and will determine how they can be adapted to the future.

It will enquire into social and economic trends to try to predict the shape and quality of Alberta society during the next two decades, and will establish bases to enable the provincial government to make "priority judgments" about our educational future. The Commission will also consider the key question of educational financing.

Submissions may be written, illustrated, filmed or recorded, and those interested in making a submission are invited to contact the Commission for further information and assistance at Suite 400, 11010 - 142 Street, Edmonton 50, or by telephone at 453-3647.

PRIME CONSULTANT NAMED FOR COMMERCE BUILDING

JAMES B. BELL of Bell and Spotowski, Edmonton architects, was appointed by the Board of Governors at its December 5 meeting as Prime Consultant to design and supervise construction of the Business Administration and Commerce Building, Phase I.

Target cost is $3,000,000. Tenders likely will be called in September, 1971 with the completion date set for March or April, 1973.

The construction site, recommended in the Diamond-Myers Long Range Plan, will allow for proximity to the social sciences and the computer centre proposed for a site west of the new building. It will also provide easy access to the library facilities.
